My Favorite gift was a gun. And i got it from my dad. And i went Hunting with it it was a 12 sadge Shotgun. And it was special cause my dad got it for me. But i loved it was the best present in the world. one day we went and shot some off of a little stand it was fun. Me and my dad had fun that day. We shot a deer and killed it it was next to a creek. And i shot it dead Me and my dad skinned it and made Jerky. and we still have that gun it is on my wall. I Am going to go hunting today and i will kill a deer, But my grandpa is going with me he had alot of guns but he dont anymore. And my grandmother is glad he dont have them she would never see him. He would be out hunting all day but he goes. there and their just every once in a while. But he dont go that much anymore well that gun was my favorite gift. Cause my dad got it for me and i will never give it away that was the best present I have had in my life my dad was going to get me a 30-30 today. But I wont never sell my 12 sadge up and that is the bottom line. and i am sticking to it well that gun is the best thing i think I have had. I have had alot of stuff govt cars 4 wheelers and that gun is the best. I think it is because my dad got it for me he paid alot for that gun. is all I wanted from him he got me a case the gun 2 boxes. of bullets and we went hunting well that gun is my favorite present I think well this is my writing assessment on my favort present. and it is a gun.

Score Point: 2

This response is considered flawed. A low degree of proficiency is reflected. Except for a brief lapse, the writer stays focused on a favorite gift (a shotgun). Reasons for this choice, although sometimes repetitious, are provided. The writer includes some details to develop the response. However, the lack of organization causes the writing to ramble. Flawed sentence structure makes the response difficult to read. Stronger organization of the writer's ideas and stronger writing conventions are required for a higher score.
